1817, and in 1820 published the work just mentioned. In 1821 he went back to India, and shortly after his return was appointed by the first Marquis of Hastings, at that time Governor-General, to the Diplomatic Mission to Siam and Coochin China. In 1823 Mr John Adam, ad interim Governor-General, appointed him to administer the new settlement of Singapore, and in the ensuing year he sailed for that distant island. At that position he remained three years, and concluded with the native chiefs, to whom the settlement belonged, the convention by which we hold its sovereignty. In 1826 he returned to Bengal, and was forthwith appointed by the Governor-General, Lord Amhurst, Commissioner in Pegu, and eventually, on the conclusion of peace, Envoy to the Burmese Court. In 1829 he was transferred to England, and, in the following year published an account of his mission to Siam and Coochin China, and in 1829 another of his mission to Burmah. After this period, long leisure, good health, and an inclination to study and capacity for work enabled him to keep up and perfect his stores of Indian and Eastern Information. He was an indefatigable contributor to all matters relating to the East, and indeed upon many other subjects. In 1852 he published a grammar and dictionary of the Malay languages, and in 1856 a descriptive Dictionary of Malay and the languages of the Philippine Archipelago, works which secured for their author the respect of the philological world. But this list of his labours and publications is but a faint conception of the varied acquirements and congenial character of the man whose loss is now deplored by a wide circle of friends. All members of the Geographical and Ethnological Societies will miss the tall form of the evergreen veteran who scarcely ever failed to take part in their discussions, and who, while stoutly maintaining his own views, showed a forbearance and courtesy in listening to others which might well have been expected from one of our best scholars. Of singularly simple and unostentatious bearing few were more able, and certainly none more ready, to impart sound information to those who sought his advice and assistance. A self-made man, he showed none of that jealousy which sometimes makes self-made men believe that kind of creation ended when they were made. In his mind there was no room for vanity, freshness and vigorous in mind, he seemed to be of no age in particular; but in some sort to belong to all, and thus men of a younger generation both loved and respected him; for they felt that near him they would find warm shelter, not cold shade, that any merit they might have would be fully appreciated, and that they would receive from the mellow cotemporarian a sympathy and encouragement which would give value to opinion and thought, too often wanting in circles where man of science seem to meet rather as antagonists pitted against each other in art arena than as fellow-creations bound to combat ignorance and error to the death. One of the latest public acts of Mr Dr Doyle was his speech at the banquet to General Cavagnari reported in the issue of the 18th March—General Cavagnari's son and two daughters to lament his loss.

THE ASSASSINATION OF MR D'ARCY M'GEE.—The following is the report of two detectives who were stationed in a cell adjoining that in which Whelan, accused of the murder of Mr D'Arcy M'Gee, is confined :—"We went, when the Court adjourned at half-past five, to the gaol, and after the governor had given notice to the prisoners, Whelan and I were again confided, took up our positions immediately outside the door at the entrance to the corridor. Whelan asked—Are you there John? Doyle said—Yes. Whelan then said—I was nailed—tied to-day, Doyle.—You don't say so. Whelan—Yes, by—; you don't know who's the informer? Doyle—No. Whelan—Alek Turner, Doyle, is a loud talker. No Whelan—Yes, but he wouldn't give off by his carcase. At this time, from the other ward, a voice called out to Whelan and asked i n how did he get on. Whelan answered— bad ; I was nailed very tight. Whelan then spoke to Doyle—it will go—hard with me ;! either swing or get penitentiary for life ; I don't care ; I'm prepared for the worst ; if you had never sworn against me that night. Whelan—I would not have come near you only I was drunk. Doyle—I am sorry, James, you ever did it. Whelan—I don't care a ———. I am prepared for the worst ; I'll either swing or go to the penitentiary for life ; I'd sooner swing than go to the penitentiary for life. I wouldn't care a ——— for any one thing. Doyle—What's that? I've heard of it. Whelan—It's the kind like dog. You're here, I'm here. I'm a great fellow ; my name will go down to posterity. Doyle—Jim ! Jim ! I am sorry for you ! Whelan—No ! I don't care a ———, only for my poor mother. Doyle said—Is she alive ? Whelan—Yes, and doyle said—My brother is in prison, too. Doyle—What for ? Whelan—Fenianism ; for firing the police barracks in Tallough, Ireland. Doyle—That's family brotherhood, isn't it, a fine lot of boys. One thing there was fond of Ireland ; one was shot at the firing of the police barracks ; one is in prison for the same, and I'm here. Whelan then sang two songs, and there was a long silence ; he danced and whistled, and told Doyle about Murphy and Enright being taken from Montreal and Ottawa by Cullen. Doyle asked what for ; Whelan—Fenianism. That was the last word. Murphy was with him at Geo's, and that was the end of him. I was in prison before for 18 months. Doyle—What for ? Whelan—Fenianism? Doyle—Where? Whelan—West of England ; they have traced us step by step ever since I came into the country ; every thing I have done, they have traced it ; it all came out in the court to-day ; that O'Reilly is a ——— ; I thought I'd fain hear Turner came out, but I bore it up like a man ; there was not the slightest sign on me."

"Well, Pat, how goes your watch, does it keep good?" said his employer to a man whose face was giving admiration upon the face of a ten-dollar watch which he had won the previous night in a raffle. "Ah, faith, sir, it's the grandest thing intirely," was Pat's reply ; "it bates time altogether. I regulated the sun by it this morning, and it was half an hour past it at sunset."

KÖNIGLICH PREUSSISCHES CONSULAT, HONGKONG, den 6ten April, 1868.
Die nachstehende Bekanntmachung des Königlich Preussischen General Consulats zu Schanghai bringt hiedurch zur Kunde der Unterthanen der Norddeutschen Bundesstaaten.

BEKANNTMACHUNG.
NACH dem Norddeutschen Bundesgesetz vom 25ten October 1867 haben alle Kaufahrtschiffe der Bundesstaaten, also namentlich die Preussischen, Mecklenburgischen, Oldenburgischen und der Städte Bremen, Hamburg und Lübeck vom 1ten April 1868 ab, die Nationalflagge ausschliesslich der Bundesflagge zu führen.

Die Bundesflagge ist nach dem Königl. im Namen des Bundes erlassenen Verordnungs vom 25ten October 1867 ein längliches Rechteck, bestehend aus drei gleichbreiten horizontalen Streifen, von welchen der obere schwarz, der mittlere weiss und der untere roth ist. Das Verhältniss der Höhe der Flagge zur Länge ist wie zwei zu drei.

Die Bundesflagge wird von den Schiffen am Heck oder am hinteren Mast—und zwar in der Regel an der Gaffel dieses Mastes, in Ermangelung einer solchen aber am Top oder am Want geführt. Ein besondrer Abzeichen in der Bundesflagge oder einen Wimpel zu führen, ähnlich demjenigen der Kriegsmarine des Norddeutschen Bundes, ist den Kaufahrtschiffen nicht gestattet.

Die Lootsenflagge der Norddeutschen ist die neue Bundesflagge im kleinen Format, rings umgeben von einem weissen Streifen, dessen Breite gleich der der inneren Streifen ist.

Die Kaufahrtschiffe haben die Bundesflagge stets zu hissen, sobald sie ein Schiff oder Fahrzeug der Bundeskriegsmarine, eine Festung oder ein Küstenfort passieren, welche ihre Nationalflagge gesetzt haben. Dasselbe gilt bei der Begegnung mit Kriegsschiffen befriedeter Mächte auf See.

Nach § 18 des Flaggengesetzes genügen die Blaser von den einzelnen Landesbehörden erteilten Certifikate auch zur Führung der Bundesflagge. Alle nur mit internationalen Consular-Certifikaten versehenen norddeutschen Schiffe haben indessen sofort ihre Eintragung in der Heimath zu bewirken.

THIS Medicine is universally admitted to be the most efficacious remedy known to the world. No preparation is so suitable to the climates of India and China as this fine and invigorating medicine. It is particularly adapted to the constitution of European ladies, as it is never failing in its effects in all diseases peculiar to females, while those who are attacked by the debilitating effects of the above climates will find in this wonderful remedy a kind of talisman whereby they may insure a restoration to robust health.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.
The science of Medicine has never before produced any remedy that can be compared to this wonderful Ointment, as it cures after all other means have failed, all wounds, sores, ulcers, and also the most inveterate skin diseases peculiar to the climate of India and China. It is the true friend of the Soldier and Cavalry, as certain old sores can be removed by it that cannot be conquered by any other treatment.

matter in perfect accordance with the statement made by Mr Taylor on Monday though not in support of the actions of the latter. The real truth is that Mr Taylor intended to abolish all houses, and acting in perfect accordance with Chinese usage at Canton here, to immediately shut up such the appearance, or even rumour, of being issued against them, a few days the storm should (spasmodic action only being characteristic of Chinese justice) the house-keepers here took the said for a short time ceased. Sir Richard had a great promptness and vigour, and pretty sure that if his house, when his (supposition) appeared they would be caught, it had been said that he would raise money for the joining in the scheme. At a fortnight neither proclamation to tender appeared, and obligingly re-opened. We are assured that this explanation at accordance with facts, and has been made of confuting of two simultaneous reports. These remarks we may refer to the letter itself, which will be another column. Meanwhile, going to be done as regards the for the coming quarter!

26th June, 1868.
The Criminal Session, which stood from Friday last owing to some delay regarding the prisoners' notice were resumed this morning, the (the taking his seat at 10 o'clock, ship said that, taking all the circumstances into consideration, he thought best to close the present Session, and to hold a special Session to try the in custody. NIISI PRIUS.
In the matter of Lanxoung Davis, on the application of the Magistrate, ex parte SAINT.
A writ applied for a rule nisi to call C. L. Davis to show cause why he not be committed for contempt of that he had committed a breach of a published in a periodical called the Magazine, upon the action for libel pending between Regina v. Saint, having prejudiced the said case in comments. He said that he found application upon a case Tidborth v. Macneil, in which several Hampshire were compelled to apologize, while others of others were severely reprimanded and ordered to pay costs. His Lordship asked whether the Magazine was registered or not. The applicant replied that it was not, but in the title-page of the periodical acknowledged himself to be the author of the publication. His Lordship said that it was his duty to see that the Magazine was not on the cover; the proprietor must be present.

His Lordship remarked that it was stated that Regina v. Saint was a case brought before the Court as soon as possible. Would the applicant name an early day? The applicant replied that he would sit on any day or every day; he it to be the duty of this Court to be open for such a case as this, as the article objected to.

The applicant replied by reading over the p. 202, No. 12 of the China Magazine, beginning with the words, "The General has filed three criminal cases against the China Mail for ending with the words, "no doubt the information in the present article lies, for the Crown." The counsel observed, while reading sent Governor" (meaning Senior that he was not now Governor of that he had been dismissed. Justice: Now, now, "dismissed" word.

Justice: Take care now. (My friend reading the paragraph ob-ly.) I would say that it is a very representation of the case. I grant the rule against Mr Davis, until I get clear proof of defamatory with the article, as writer or of the periodical. Proof that he nese Coasts.The author in his Preface says:—"The tables in Chap. VII., for estimating prices, measurement of goods, exchanges, &c., have been selected from these constantly in use

among the foreign merchants in China.
Those for calculating the prices of tea in dollars or pence have been copied from the more extended tables, by the kind permission of the author, P. Loureiro, Esq. The last section of the same chapter, on "Movements in Bullion," has been prepared and furnished for the Guide by Patrick R.
Harper, Esq., of the Commercial Bank of India at Hongkong, who has had much experience in the exchanges and movements of the precious metals in Eastern Asia."The Appendix of Sailing Directions has been reprinted from the "China Pilot."
With short interruptions, the coasts from Singapore to Hakodadi are all described in it; and for the Chinese coasts, the Directions have been improved by the insertion of the Chinese characters for the names of all places that could be ascertained."Orders may be sent through any of the
